World Vision

World Vision is a Christian humanitarian organization dedicated to working with children, families, and their communities worldwide to reach their full potential by tackling the causes of poverty and injustice. Motivated by their faith in Jesus Christ, they serve alongside the poor and oppressed as a demonstration of God's unconditional love for all people.

Working in nearly 100 countries around the world including the United States, World Vision serves all people, regardless of religion, race, ethnicity, or gender. World Vision is driven by the belief that every child deserves to live life to its fullest potential, and the knowledge that healthy, educated children have a better chance of improving the future of their entire communities.

HUMC provides warm knitted sweaters through the Knit for Kids project. With every stitch, together the knitters give hope and warmth to vulnerable children living in poverty or other difficult situations around the globe. For millions of children, a hand-made item isn't just a sweater, cap or blanket. It's a chance at better health. It's protection and warmth from freezing temperatures. The hand-made item is a beacon of hope to that child and the child's family. It tells them that someone across the world cares about them... that they are not alone in their fight to thrive and for a better future.

"Millions of children around the world face danger each day…Abused, abandoned, and orphaned. Trafficked and enslaved. Caught in wars and disasters. Sickened by hunger and dirty water. Forced to find shelter in refugee camps, the streets, or city dumps. These children live in the most broken places of our world, places where many others cannot or will not go."
